

An evening of music from the US labour movement presented by . . .

George Mann & Rik Palieri

George Mann sings songs from the last century of labour and social activism in the USA. His own songs are powerful and funny takes on the state of the nation.

Rik Palieri is a talented singer, songwriter & multi-instrumentalist. Expect him to frail the banjo, stomp out a blues on guitar, spin out a wild and woolly story, pluck out a tune on the mouth bow, play a melody on the Native American flute & end the evening with an original yodel-sing-a-long!

7pm, Saturday 26th January, 2013

Humph Hall

85 Allambie Road, Allambie Heights

Formerly the Allambie Heights Uniting Church, Humph Hall is now the private home of Gial and Wayne. Bookings: 9939 8802 wayne@humphhall.org - humphhall.org