

You are invited to an evening of jazz performed by the

Henry Rasmussen Quartet

After graduating from the ANU in Canberra, Henry moved back to Sydney's Northern Beaches to study with legendary jazz drummer Andrew Gander. As part of a JUMP grant he received from the Australia Council and arts' body Next Wave, Henry has put together a quartet comprising of up-and-coming jazz musicians Luke Sweeting, Victor Rufus and Max Alduca.

The quartet is influenced by many great artists in the jazz pantheon, including Wayne Shorter, Keith Jarrett and John Coltrane, as well as more modern jazz composers such as David Binney and Ari Hoenig. Come and enjoy tunes and improvisations that explore the idiom from bebop to modern jazz as the group launch their second CD at Humph Hall.

7pm, Saturday 7th Dec. 2013

Humph Hall

85 Allambie Road, Allambie Heights

Formerly the Allambie Heights Uniting Church, Humph Hall is now the private home of Gial & Wayne.
Bookings: 9939 8802 wayne@humphhall.org - humphhall.org

You are invited to an evening of jazz performed by the

Henry Rasmussen Quartet

After graduating from the ANU in Canberra, Henry moved back to Sydney's Northern Beaches to study with legendary jazz drummer Andrew Gander. As part of a JUMP grant he received from the Australia Council and arts' body Next Wave, Henry has put together a quartet comprising of up-and-coming jazz musicians Luke Sweeting, Victor Rufus and Max Alduca.

The quartet is influenced by many great artists in the jazz pantheon, including Wayne Shorter, Keith Jarrett and John Coltrane, as well as more modern jazz composers such as David Binney and Ari Hoenig. Come and enjoy tunes and improvisations that explore the idiom from bebop to modern jazz as the group launch their second CD at Humph Hall.

7pm, Saturday 7th Dec. 2013

Humph Hall

85 Allambie Road, Allambie Heights

Formerly the Allambie Heights Uniting Church, Humph Hall is now the private home of Gial & Wayne.
Bookings: 9939 8802 wayne@humphhall.org - humphhall.org

You are invited to an evening of jazz performed by the

Henry Rasmussen Quartet

After graduating from the ANU in Canberra, Henry moved back to Sydney's Northern Beaches to study with legendary jazz drummer Andrew Gander. As part of a JUMP grant he received from the Australia Council and arts' body Next Wave, Henry has put together a quartet comprising of up-and-coming jazz musicians Luke Sweeting, Victor Rufus and Max Alduca.

The quartet is influenced by many great artists in the jazz pantheon, including Wayne Shorter, Keith Jarrett and John Coltrane, as well as more modern jazz composers such as David Binney and Ari Hoenig. Come and enjoy tunes and improvisations that explore the idiom from bebop to modern jazz as the group launch their second CD at Humph Hall.

7pm, Saturday 7th Dec. 2013

Humph Hall

85 Allambie Road, Allambie Heights

Formerly the Allambie Heights Uniting Church, Humph Hall is now the private home of Gial & Wayne.
Bookings: 9939 8802 wayne@humphhall.org - humphhall.org